HARBOR, RIVER AND MARINE NEWS

Shipping Transactions and Notes of Interest Along the Bay Front.

The tug Monarch, which has been absent from port for a week or ten days, towing a steamer from New Orleans to Frontiere, Mexico, returned yesterday morning, having safely delivered her tow to the point of destination.

The steamer Capt. Fritz, Capt. Rogers, entered from Freeport and way landings yesterday morning with 80 barrels of naval stores and about ten passengers. She is loading return cargo at Baylen street wharf. The cargo will include a water tank for the log road of the Graves, Tatum Co., of Freeport.

The coast steamer Tarpon entered from Mobile yesterday with a good cargo of freight from the east for Pensacola merchants. She sailed last night on her regular run to Apalachicola, Carrabelle and other points.

The statement that the Italian ship Trojan went aground during the severe blow of last week was incorrect. The lighters which were moored to the Trojan were cut away during the blow and grounded, but the Trojan while dragging her anchor some distance, did not touch the ground, but was in twenty feet of water when the blow subsided. She was towed back to her berth in the stream by the tug Nellie, of the Dunwoody-Aiken fleet.

The steamer Sun, Capt. Boghich, departed yesterday with a heavy cargo for Milton and landings up the Blackwater river. She will make all points where naval stores are shipped on this run, and is expected back in port Thursday. The Sun has changed her landing place in the city from Baylen street to Palafox wharf.

The Italian bark Sava, which recently arrived in port, was towed to Palafox wharf yesterday, where she will discharge several hundred tons of gravel brought here from Italy as ballast. When this is completed the bark will load a cargo of lumber and timber.

The schooner Frances Ann entered yesterday with lumber from Hog Town up Choctawhatchee and empty barrels and gasoline drums from Beatrice.

The schooner Cleopatra, Captain Ware, will complete loading a general cargo this afternoon for the Ware Merchandise Co., F. H. Ware and J. R. Thompson, at St. Andrews. The departure has been somewhat delayed on account of the freight not arriving.

READS "FROM HIS FRIENDS"

Inscription Borne By Gift From Mysterious Source To Judge C. H. Laney.

Among those to whom fate has given the beneficent ability to help the fallen and to help lift the lost, and in his stern work as a judge to be at the same time a friend to the friendless, is a Pensacola police magistrate, the retiring recorder, Hon. C. H. Laney, who awakens the self-respect which smolders in the breast of even the most hardened.

HON. C. H. LANEY.

Recorder Laney is to retire tomorrow from his duties in the police court of this city.

A mysterious package was handed Judge Laney yesterday, the friend giving the package refusing to divulge the name or names of the parties sending it. Upon opening the box, the judge found a beautiful gold watch and chain.

An enclosed note told Judge Laney that the watch was presented by "some of those who felt a deep appreciation of his kind words and noble deeds in helping erring ones to try to lead a better life." It made the judge as happy as could be, and as proud as possible. The watch is an exceedingly handsome Waltham, and in the inner case is this simple inscription—"Judge Laney, from His Friends."

GRAHAMS ARE SENT TO U. S. GRAND JURY

The Alabama Naval Stores Operators Held Under Peonage Charge.

INTRODUCED NO WITNESSES IN THE PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION BEFORE FEDERAL COMMISSIONER MARSH YESTERDAY—UNDER $500 BONDS EACH.

J. B. and Thomas Graham, the two Alabama naval stores operators, who were arrested about two weeks ago upon a charge of compelling a negro to return with them to Alabama, Florida, in violation of the peonage laws, were yesterday arraigned before Commissioner March and held to the United States grand jury under bonds of $500 each, which they secured immediately.

The trial yesterday was the continuation of the one of two weeks since, when the young men were arraigned, but owing to the fact that they were not prepared to go to trial only the government's witnesses were heard. Yesterday the defense placed no witnesses on the stand, but counsel argued that the government had not made out a case against the defendants to substantiate the peonage charge. The commissioner ruled that a strong enough case had been made for the defendants to be held.

It is alleged that the Grahams crossed from Alabama into Florida and going to the turpentine camp of R. S. Mays, forced a negro man, formerly in their employ to return with them. Before they departed, there was, it is said by Mr. Mays, and exchange of shots between Mr. Mays and the Grahams, but no one was injured.

PENSACOLA COMMISSION CO.'S DAILY MARKET REVIEW

The unexpected again happened yesterday, when the cotton market took a tumble of from 35 to 45 points in anticipation of, and on the issuing of, the government report, which was made public at 11:15 a. m. It showed lower conditions than any other time on record. The conditions of the crop as given out by the government were placed at 75.5, while the acreage was figured at 3,062,000.

On the opening, the market showed considerable uneasiness, and with the exception of a few rallies declined steadily some 14 to 24 points, and immediately after the government report being made public, declined about twenty points further.

The bulls were quick to take any advantage that offered, and forced prices back upward at a rapid rate which occasioned a few rallies, the figures ranging only from 13 to 20 under the opening prices.

Except July, which rallied on the bull reaction, one point higher than the opening price, the opening quotations were the highest level for that crop in active months all closed below the opening, as follows: January, 16 down; July, 12 down; October, 17 down; December, 2 down.

The low points reached were below opening, as follows: The figures ranged also a statement of the range of prices in the options quoted.
January 27, July 29, October 45, December 44. The July range was 30, this option at one time reading one point above opening.

The recent advance in prices to and above 12 points was due to a general recognition that conditions would be about as issued, hence there was no immediate advance following the issuing of the report. Instead, the report having been discounted, there was a sharp break, which was most likely attributed to the amount of acreage as shown by the government. We must bear in mind, however, (and this is no doubt the prime factor in the immediate recovery of the market), that this acreage, while very nearly the same as usual, is based on the original planting, and most probably contains no discounts on account of the vast amount of acreage which has been completely ruined by the heavy rains, much of which have been abandoned, while other land is still under water, or otherwise unfit for cultivation just now.

The sun threatened cloudy weather in much of the cotton growing section, and it appears logical to expect a continuation of the higher prices and probably an advance in view of the bureau to be issued next month. This report, after taking the damaged acreage into consideration, will probably be lower than the one of yesterday. Nothing but a fair weather from now on can, in our opinion, bring about any change in the market.

There was much shaking out of the small long interests during the morning hours, but those who had foresight enough to establish their holdings suffered practically no inconvenience. The market eased off toward the close, due to longer who had ridden through the day, being satisfied and taking their profits.

Grain and Stocks.
Wheat opened at a half-cent under the closing price of the day before, and declined steadily until about noon, when it became some little stronger, and closed about one cent higher than it opened. Wheat appears to be a purchase on such recessions at this time. Corn and oats appeared stronger than other grain, and held firm at about the price of the day previous.

Stocks showed much greater strength than for some days past, many of the better securities making handsome gains during the day. During the excited hours of the cotton market, business was rather quiet, but when the flurry was over, more attention was turned to the investment securities, and such stocks as American Smelting and Refining, Reading, Canadian Pacific, Atchafson and Union Pacific recovered firmly.

Money was easy at from 2 to 2 1/2 per cent. A. G. CROCKETT, Manager.
